

PROJECT REPORT

Needleseye Park

Photos courtesy of Kent Mason, WV Land Trust.

Location Fayette County

Type Partner perpetual conservation easement

Effective date 2017

Size 283 acres

Special features Massive rock cliffs under a forested canopy

- Conservation values
- Contributes to the 30x30 global initiative to mitigate climate change and conserve biodiversity
 - Potential rare, threatened, or endangered species
 - Public outdoor recreation
 - Working land with strategic economic importance
 - Conservation connectivity
 - The project prevents known threats

- Partners
- City of Oak Hill - owner
 - West Virginia Land Trust
 - Outdoor Heritage Conservation Fund

Link to more information <https://www.wvlandtrust.org/rec-access/needleseye-boulder-park/>